~At Rooted Tree Theater Camp, our goal is to provide training, theatrical education and creative encouragement while building campers' confidence. Campers develop characters, learn songs and choreography, and enhance projection and stage presence, using memorization and imagination as tools to begin the journey. Our campers are also provided with conversation outside of the show itself regarding the context to their characters, the trials and tribulations of each character and what that means to your camper. Your child will work in age-appropriate groups during their camping experience.~
